

McDOUGALL AND SECORD BUY EXHIBITION GROUNDS

The Purchase Price Put at $40.00 A Share. Will Offer
Grounds To The City For Park Site.

The news became general about the city this morning that the majority of the stock of the Edmonton Industrial Exhibition Association has changed hands. Messrs. McDougall and Secord are the purchasers and it is stated that they have acquired not less than 100 of the 600 shares of the association at about $40 a share.

The Edmonton Industrial Exhibition Association was incorporated some five years ago under the laws of the North West Territories, being capitalized for 600 shares of $25 each, for the purpose of holding exhibitions in Edmonton and during its history as an exhibition association has held four annual fairs, all more or less successful, but the last one held on June 30th and July 1st, 2nd and 3rd, of last year, was an unqualified success as a fair, but was never the less a financial loss.

About six months previous to this, in January of this year, the association approached the city council and offered to sell the grounds to the city for park purposes for $40,000 cash, but this offer was refused. Following this and following the loss booked on the last exhibition the directors decided to dispose of their stock to the highest bidder.

The price paid by McDougall and Secord for the stock makes the assets of the company cost $24,000 in cash, but besides this there are some large floating liabilities which they, as owners of the company, will be responsible for which will bring the actual cost up to or possibly over the price asked from the city last January.

The property consists of 41 acres in the flats lying between First and Fourth streets. The improvements on it include the industrial exhibition buildings and a track which have cost at least $15,000.

The annual meeting of the association was held on December 11th, when an adjournment was taken until the 8th of January, until which time the directors are very reticent about making any declarations on the matter whatever.

When seen about the matter this morning Messrs. McDougall and Secord stated that it was their intention to offer the property to the city and that they hoped that the exhibition would be carried on the same way as heretofore and under the same management. They were not at present ready to name the price that they would ask for the property, but stated that there was no intention to hold the city up, but rather that they were trying to assist the city to get a desirable park site at a reasonable price.

The present directors of the company are: Donald Ross, president; T. Bellamy, vice-president; Jos. H. Garvey, W. S. Robertson, Thos. Dale, John A. McPherson, John C. Gallagher, directors.

One member of the board of directors stated to the Bulletin today that he had no way of knowing whether there would be an exhibition in Edmonton next summer or not, but that he considered that the city having no park, made an error in not taking the property when it was offered last January and that he still considered that it would be good judgment on the part of the ratepayers to acquire the property for the purposes of a public park.

SPLENDID CHRISTMAS DISPLAYS IN CITY STORES

One of the pleasing features of the Christmas season is the decoration of business houses in honor of the Yuletide event. Windows everywhere are decorated, the interior of the stores garnished with garlands of evergreen, and in some cases most elaborate decorative schemes have been carried out.

McDOUGALL & SECORD
For uniqueness of design, the premium, were one to have been awarded, would undoubtedly go to McDougall & Secord, whose decorations are a fair rival to the artist in the case of McDougall & Secord is Mr. Webb, of the 600, and since department of that institution, and his effect is not only artistic, but highly artistic. He has arranged in the big middle window a winter scene in which a coogan slider, with coogan leader with dolls in winter clothing forms the foreground while a large painting of a mountain scene glistening with snow and frost forms the background. The whole thing is intensely realistic and true to nature, and when the blue light is turned on in the evening to make it a winter moonlight scene the effect is well-nigh perfect.

The interior of their store has not been by any means forgotten and bears a handsome appearance.

REVILLON BROS.
Revillon's window, which many consider the premier effort in decorative art, is one which catches the little one's eye at a glance. They have arranged an old fashioned fireplace after the style of the old homestead. Clustered around it are a group of little figures representing five of the little ones who have sat up long into the night waiting for Santa Claus and at last, tired out with their long vigil, have closed their tired eyes and gone to sleep on the hearthrug beside the cheery and fire, while around about them and in their hands are the stockings which they had intended to hold out to their old friend Santa when he came down the chimney.

HUDSON'S BAY STORES.
At the Hudson's Bay the Christmas season has taken on a purely "grown up" effect. They have spent their special efforts in bringing out the most beautiful things in their enormous stock such as are suitable for presentation goods. The fancy goods and novelties departments have received especial attention and the display there could not be surpassed in the farthest cities in Canada. A new set of beautiful quartered oak showcase, the very finest in the cabinet maker's art, serve to display the goods to splendid advantage. The entire store shows the touch of the decorator's art and the large windows surrounding the immense store on two sides show particular care and attention.

A BRUCE POWLEY
Neat and artistic is the display in

S. NANKIN
Has a very artistic display of optical goods, opera glasses, watches and jewelry. His windows are brilliantly decorated, and present a splendid appearance.

KENNETH PICKELL
This jeweller is to be congratulated upon the displays in his window. He has a fine line of jewelry, watches, etc.

EDMONTON JORRING HOUSE
A tempting display of chinaware is shown in the windows of the Edmonton Jorring House, Jasper avenue east. There are vases of all descriptions, beautiful little china and bronze figures, a delightful array of cups and saucers of all sizes and varieties, and cut glass ware of the finest quality.

EDMONTON FURNITURE STORE
A picture display that is certainly worth seeing is that in the windows of this store. Framed pictures of all descriptions are there, and also lamps and vases and in another window a neat display of artistic furniture.

WILLIAMSON BROS.
This firm has a most tempting display of all kinds of fowl; turkeys, geese, chicken, and meats galore. In both stores of this enterprising firm the displays are tasteful and the windows very prettily decorated.

MOSS & Co.
This firm has also a very tasteful array of meats and fowl and fish, for the Christmas trade, and their display is certainly worthy of admiration.

The students of the College gave their second annual dinner in the spacious hall Thursday evening, and the large scale upon which the whole program was arranged, and the success with which it was carried out are creditable not only to the very energetic committees, who so kindly and ably managed all the details, but also to the "men behind the guns," both of the faculty and board of directors.

"Let honor be to whom honor is due." Nothing less would be sufficiently foreboding as a tribute to Mr. Lambert, the gentleman who introduced the "dinner" to the warmish influences of the evening. Every item of the menu was more than enjoyable, it was delicious, and certainly the "chef's" affidavit that he thoroughly understood his business.

Principal Riddell, in a brief introductory remark, welcomed Lieutenant-Governor Bulyea, and thus opened the second part of the entertainment. The first toast was appropriately in honor of "our King," which, proposed by Mr. Newton of the faculty, was heartily supported, the guests all rising to sing the National Anthem.

All the toasts of the evening were well proposed and answered. The speeches coming "Some from the heavy heads of time and others from the green," were varied with the usual lightness and weight of "after-dinner" efforts. Interspersed with wisely-timed selections of music, the whole blended harmoniously with the repeated "clink" of the glasses raised in honor.

The profound veins of the collective speeches were: Congratulations to the principal, the board of directors and the faculty, for being what they are, and doing what they have done in the space of three brief years, to bring the College to the power of usefulness it is in the splendid Province of Alberta.

All seemed to agree that the aim of the management is to turn out "men and women," not merely of strong brain and power to compete in professional and commercial life, but sturdy "men and women," who would interpret to the world at large the meaning of those simple words, "God's Men and God's Women."

See the Edmonton Furniture Co. for bamboo and burnt wood work in centre tables, cabinets, etc., etc. Just the thing for a Christmas gift. Store open evenings, 5 to 9 p.m.
